Railroad Men's Organizations Protest to the President.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 15.—An earnest protest was made to the president yesterday against proposed railroad freight legislation. The protest was filed by representatives of five of the greatest labor organizations connected with railroading—the engineers, firemen, conductors, switchmen and trainmen.

The members of the delegation which called on the president represented the several organizations.

They told him that railroad rate legislation, logically meant the lowering of rates. This, they contended, will be followed by a lessening of the earning power of railroads, and consequently by reduction eventually of the wages of railroad employees.

HE GOT HIS CIGAR.

Sherman Blake Went Ten Miles for It. But Is Happy Now.

Sherman Blake's friends were surprised to see him on the street yesterday, as when he left for his camp a week ago, he said that Blake would know him no more for a month.

His unexpected appearance is explained by the fact that he ran out of Wadsworth Bros' Chicos, and had to come to C. H. Kendrick & Co's drug store to get another box.

As he expressed it, "camping without a Chico to smoke is like lonesome without a lemon, and even though I had to come ten miles to get my cigar, I am happy now." While he said this, he looked the personification of contentment, letting a long whirl of fragrant Havana smoke float upwards.

C. H. Kendrick & Co. have just received another shipment of Wadsworth Bros' Chicos, and want all who like a good cigar, better than most ten-cent cigars, to try a Chico, and see how well pleased they will be for half the money, as it retails for a straight five cents.

Has Flag Used on Libby Prison.

Rutland is the proud possessor of the Confederate flag which was used on the old Libby prison flagstaff during the time when so many Union men died there of starvation and disease. This flag is a prized relic in the collection exhibited at Memorial hall in this city, and was taken by Gen. E. H. Ripley of Rutland, April 3, 1865, the date on which a large number of Union soldiers were freed. It is well preserved.

General Ripley's collection of war relics includes the original designs submitted by various artists to the Confederate government for a flag, and were taken from the private desk of Jefferson Davis by General Ripley. They are considered among the most valuable relics of the Civil War.

One daughter, Mrs. Joseph Rooney died about two years ago.

Divinity Student, in Defense of Illegal Act, Is Ethical.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 15.—A new point in transfer ethics was raised Monday when Robert Morris, a divinity student in Chicago university, was arraigned before Justice Callahan on a charge of offering a transfer which he had found in the street.

Morris was arrested by one of the detectives of the city railway company, who saw him attempt to use the transfer. He admitted that he had found it, and that he knew it was an illegal use of it, but he said he could not see the justice of the law.

He contended that every nickel spent by the patrons of the company purchased the maximum ride on the company's lines, and that if the original purchaser did not care to use all of that ride it could be no moral offense for another person to use what someone else had thrown away.

Justice Callahan held that to ride on a transfer that had been found in the street was no less than robbery, inasmuch as the company was deprived of a nickel that otherwise would have been spent.

"Then you might as well say that I rob the storekeepers when I give away an overcoat which is only half worn out, because I save the recipient of the coat the necessity of buying a new one," rejoined Morris.

The student finally agreed to meet the justice again and thrash out the question thoroughly.

"He had me going some," was Justice Callahan's comment after Morris left the court room.
